The Tasso Approach to Regression Therapy

- If you like to be rational, but you are open to intuition;
- If you don't want to solve people's problems, but want to help them to solve their own problems;
- If you like to work direct, focused, result-oriented;
- And if you are open to spirituality, but want to stay firm on your feet;
- Then Tasso may be the place for you.

We belong clearly to the cathartic school. And we don't use hypnosis to induce a trance. We let the trance grow naturally from getting the clients absorbed in their symptoms by what are called 'bridge' techniques

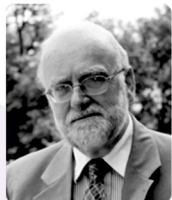

We try to work as direct, short and focused as possible. We do not avoid apparently weird experiences like past lives, discarnate experiences, attached spirits and prehuman experiences, but we remain grounded at all times. Clients may enter transpersonal experiences and spiritual states, but we start with common sense. And we end there as well.

The basis of our therapy is counseling: being able to effectively interview a client, to establish trust, to stimulate the client's self-confidence. On the basis of that we use three methodologies: regression, personification and energy work. Each session has elements of all three.

Duration: 6 Modules of TASSO PG Curriculum*

(260 of Classroom Training + 65 hours of Internship Practice)

*= Tasso PG is optional for those who want to super specialize in to TRT.
